What is Camp Reece?

Camp Reece is a sleep-away camp for children with special needs from ages 8 to 17 with low average and above average cognitive functioning and adaptive skills. Our camp is located in the Adirondacks which provides an ideal setting for our campers. We offer a wide range of activities, each specifically designed to meaningfully engage campers while teaching new skills, building confidence, improving self-esteem, encouraging social-emotional growth, and, of course, having fun!

Our groups consist of no more than 6 campers for every 2 counselors, ensuring guidance and attention to each camper's experience. Our skilled and caring staff members differentiate instruction and modify activities whenever needed to ensure campers of all levels, abilities, and ages can participate fully and successfully. We believe in acknowledging every accomplishment and never miss the opportunity to provide positive feedback and recognition.

At Camp Reece, campers will explore limitless possibilities and stretch the boundaries of what can be achieved while creating memories full of fun that they will carry with them long after Summer's end.

FAQs:

When will I get to speak to my family?

In emphasizing the safety of our campers and staff, visiting days are offered, on an individual basis, only to campers who attend the full 6-week session. We encourage you to email and send letters home and share experiences and projects. We have an awesome website where staff can upload your photos daily so you can share with friends and family the experiences, activities and fun you are having at camp.

Do we get free time?

We have free time built around your daily schedule when you can catch up on arts projects or play indoor games one-on-one. We also have "camper's choice" when you choose the activity in which you would like to participate.

How are campers placed in dorms?

We have an in-depth registration process that ensures every camper who comes to Camp Reece can succeed socially. We use all the information from the registration form and the face-to-face meeting to assess which group would be the best match for each camper.
